THE HOWL AND HAVOC OF A HYENA.

Tearing Open the Grave of Garfield, to Cast Dishonor on His Wan Remains—A Defiler of the dead—One of the "306" Speaks What Probably None of Them Disputes—Matter for Conservative Republicans to Read.

From the Washington Post, March 11.

"We admit to our columns, to-day, a very bitter attack on General Garfield, by a man who belonged to the same party, was a member of the same convention, and doubtless voted for the late President at the election following it. The name of the author is in our possession, and at the service of the President's political administrators, if they desire to take issue with his declarations, either of fact or opinion."

The following is the card:

"To the Editor of the Post: 'I read with great interest the Garfield-Chase letter in your paper to-day. I will take an oath it is genuine, for I saw the original in Mr. Chase's house in 1867, when he resided on the corner of Sixth and E. streets. What became of it, and how it turns up now, I do not know."

"To one who knew Garfield well this letter is no surprise. He was a treacherous, a cowardly, a hypocritical man, selfish to the extreme, and not caring what happened so it did not happen to himself. General Rosecrans was, and is, worth to this country a thousand Garfields. When the fighting that Garfield was craving for came on he took care to keep out of danger. It is true, as the New York Tribune published some time ago, that at Chickamauga he was behind a tree; but it is not true that a white dove lit in the tree above him, for there are no white doves in that part of the world, and never have been seen. There are a few domestic pigeons, but they are not in the habit of lighting in trees or coming near the roar of the battle."

"It is high time, for the sake of our national common sense, the truth of history, and justice alike to the living and dead, that all this gush over Garfield should end. Millions of better and greater men have lived and died. The writer of this article was a delegate to the Chicago convention, and at no time voted there for Garfield. I sat within a few feet of him and spoke to him just after his nomination. He was whimpering like a spanked baby, and water was in his eyes. He was nothing but a professional office-seeker and professional politician. A failure as a preacher and a lawyer, he learned to string words together as a child does beads, and that was his stock in trade. No one can point to an 'original' thought he ever uttered."

"He betrayed John Sherman at Chicago as treacherously as Brutus did Caesar or Judas did Ghrist. While making his speech nominating Sherman, twice a clear, cultivated voice from the gallery called out: 'Nominate Garfield!' I have it upon the authority of one who became a member of Garfield's Cabinet that this voice was that of a hired 'claque' from McVicker's theatre, stationed there for the purpose, to carry out a scheme the Garfield ring had concocted long before the Convention met."

"No one wants to do injustice to a dead man, but they are worth no more than living ones; and living or dead, the reputation of a brave, patriotic and useful soldier like General Rosecrans should not suffer in the eyes or thoughts of our people by the words of such a man as Garfield, who knew nothing of the science of war, and who was such a 'Sack at all trades,' he knew little of anything anyone need covet."

Washington, March 9, 1882.

Great Britain employs in underground occupations no fewer than 378,151 persons and the length of the galleries where the mining is carried on is found to be 58,744 miles. The greatest depth of the coal mines is 28,000 feet below the level of the sea.

Eliza Dupey.

A Cincinnati correspondent writes: Here in a dingy parlor Eliza Dupey, the novelist, lived for years and snatched off yards of Ledger stories, declaring that "when they were once mailed they impressed here so little she could not remember the title till she got home from the office." She wrote while here a famous prize Christmas story for which Bonner paid her $3,000.

Miss Dupey died in New Orleans about a year ago, and though upwards of seventy still retained all her faculties intact. In her portraits she has a broad forehead back from which her iron gray hair is caught by two shell combs, from which depend two long curls resting on her bosom. Her eyes humorous, her chin double, treble, yes—quadruple, but a good substantial chin, lots of character, and her cheeks as rosy as two glowing Baldwin apples. The picture of health, being, in fact, no sylph, but weighing a trifle over two hundred pounds.

An old acquaintance in speaking of her remarked:

"Miss Eliza, though fond of dress, rather ignored the petty chances of fashion, and seemed to forget that while she was flinging the shuttle of romance, twenty years at a stretch, the fickle jade had changed her base a dozen times or more."

For a little dinner given at her house shortly before she left here, she drew from out of the depths of the past an immense pattern of brocade—which even in the present style of grotesque things would seem quite startling—and arrayed herself. It was very low neck and very little sleeve gorgeous in coloring, and was decorated with a huge bow on each side, and a corresponding one reposing on her stomach in front. The tout ensemble was quite stupendous, and the effect not lost on the darkey maid, who went in, took a look, and came out her eyes as big as saucers, and exclaimed: "By the living God—Miss Kate, ain't she fixed?"

There is a quaint story told us about a Texan preacher who had a falling out with his congregation. While the congregation and pastor were at daggers' points, the latter received an appointment as chaplain of a penitentiary. ELEGANT EASTER CARDS, AT

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

MONDAY EVE., MARCH 20, 1882.

THERE is some talk about Congress adjourning the first of June.

THE House Committee on Postal Affairs have agreed to report a bill fixing the letter postage rates at three cents an ounce instead of three cents a half ounce as now. The committee will also report a bill providing for a two-cent postal card will have a flap which can be sealed and its contents kept from view as if in an envelope.

MR. LOWELL, the United States Minister, replying to an application made on behalf of American citizens arrested in Ireland, says: "The coercion act is contrary to the spirit and foundation of the principles of England and American jurisprudence, but is the law of the land and controls all persons domiciled in the proclaimed districts of Ireland, whether British subjects or not. It is manifestly futile to claim that naturalized citizens of the United States should be exempted from the operation of the act."

THE following changes have been made in the regulations governing the issue and redemption of the currency and coins of the United States and the redemption of national bank notes; United States notes (silver certificates and fractional notes) equaling or exceeding three-fifths of their original proportions are redeemable at their full face value. Fragments of United States notes, each constituting clearly one-half, but less than three-fifths, are redeemable at one-half the full face value of whole notes or certificates, by an affidavit stating that the missing portion had been totally destroyed. Under the old regulations United States notes and silver certificates were redeemable by tenths and fractional currency by fifths.

A JOINT resolution was introduced in the Senate by Mr. Saunders, proposing an amendment to the Constitution to enable the election to be made by the people, of postmasters, United States marshals, district attorneys, collectors of Internal revenue, and other officers whose duties are to be performed within the limits of any State or part of State, except judges of supreme and inferior courts. It provides that all civil officers of the United States, the heads of departments, and officers whose duties are temporary in that character shall hold office for a term of four years, unless a longer term shall be fixed by law. The amendment empowers the President to remove any officer so elected for any cause affecting the incumbent's character, habits, or other qualifications, excepting political or religious opinions. Article II of the proposed amendment provides that the officers mentioned shall be elected in such manner as the State legislature shall prescribe.

ONE of the nicest recipes for cake is her given. A pleasing peculiarity of it is that it obviates the necessity of having more than one kind on the table: One coffee cup of sugar, three-quarters of a cup of butter, two cups of flour, the whites of five eggs, three teaspoonfuls of baking power; flavor with vanilla. Take from this one large tablespoonful; bake the rest in two cakes, as for jelly cake. To this tablespoonful add half a cup each of chopped raisins, chopped citron, of flour, and of molasses; two teaspoonfuls of cinnamon, half a teaspoonful of cloves, and one wine-glass of brandy. Bake this in one layer. Put the cake together with soft frosting the fruit layer, in the middle. The top may be frosted or not, as you please.

MR. KENOR, from the Committee on Printing, has reported the following bill relating to legal advertising. Such laws are in successful operation in other states and have been found beneficial. The measure now before the Legislature has been carefully prepared, is practicable, and seems to be such a law as is needed in this state:

AN ACT to establish legal advertising in this Commonwealth.

§1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That hereafter in all suits now pending, or which may be brought in courts of record in this Commonwealth, it shall be the duty of the presiding judge to order all public sales to be made under decree of court by administrators, executors, trustees, assignees, commissioners, receivers, agents, or other persons authorized to make such sales, when the amount involved is $150 or more, exclusive of interest and costs to be published once a week for two weeks before the day of sale in a newspaper printed in the county, and posting a notice of time and place of said sale on the court house door, and if said sale be made more than two miles from the county seat, by posting a notice of the same on the premises on which the sale is to be made.

§2. All sales made without such advertising shall be set aside, on motion, by the court to which the execution is returnable.

§3. The officer who levies upon goods and chattels by virtue of an execution issued by a court of record where the amount involved is $50 or upwards, exclusive of interests and costs shall, before he proceeds to sell the same, cause public notice to be given of the time and place of sale, for at least ten days before the day of sale, which notice shall be given in a paper published in the county, or if no newspaper is printed therein, by posting advertisements in five public places in the county, two of which shall be put up in the precinct where the sale is to be held.

§4. Newspaper publishers may charge and receive for the publication of advertisements required to be published by any public officer of the State, or of a county, city, village, precinct, or other public institution, or by trustee, assignee, executor, administrator, receiver, commissioner, agent, or other officer, the following sums, to-wit: For the first insertion, one dollar for each inch; and for each additional insertion authorized by law, fifty cents for each inch, fractional inches to be estimated at same rate per space occupied. Said charges to be collected at the same time and in the same and in the manner that other costs are now collected; and all legal advertising shall be set up in nonpareil type, in compact form, without any unnecessary leads, blanks, or head lines.

§5. Every proclamation for an election, notice of rates of taxation, unrecorded deeds, delinquent tax-lists, and such other matters of general interest to the tax-payer as the court of claims, county judge, sheriff or mayor of any corporation may deem proper, shall be published. It shall be sufficient to publish any notice or advertisement required by law in a paper when one side of said paper is printed in the county in which the advertising is required to be printed.

§6. All general, special, or local acts or parts of acts, in conflict herewith, are hereby repealed.

§7. This act to take effect from its passage.

PERSONALS.

Points About People Here and Elsewhere.

Rev. Jos. C. Frank is in Maysville to-day.

Mrs. Robert Ficklin is visiting her father at Covington.

Miss Maggie A. Gallagher, of Columbus, O., is visiting the Sisters at the Convent.

Mr. John Green has returned home from Louisville and take a place on the editorial staff of the Eagle.

Cards have been sent out announcing the marriage of Miss Maggie A. Lewis, of Circleville Ohio, to Mr. J. K. Dunbar, of Manchester, to-morrow the 21st, inst.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Stockton, of Georgetown, Ky., arrived Saturday, night, on a short visit to the family of Col. J. M. Stockton. They returned home this morning.

The senior proprietor of the BULLETIN went to Cincinnati this morning, as uncle Roe Stockton suggests, for the purpose of Drum-Majoring Currier's Orchestra, on the way up the river.

C. M. Currier Coming.

Prof. C. M. Currier, the head of Currier's celebrated Cincinnati band will be here Tuesday evening, and lead the orchestra, at the Muldoon Pic-Nic entertainment. He will bring with him several of his best musicians, with a view to making the music the occasion a most attractive feature. This new addition to the interest of the evening may be taken as an earnest of the desire on the part of the combination to give the best entertainment ever presented in Maysville.

THE Mite Society, of the M. E. Church, South, will meet at the residence of Mrs. Simon Newell, on Second street, next Thursday afternoon.

THE following is from the Richmond (Va.) Dispatch of the 16th inst:

Miss Mildred Ryan, sister of Mr. William Ryan, of the State, died at the residence of her mother, Adams street between Main and Cary, yesterday morning about 6:30 o'clock. She was a member of the Second Presbyterian (Dr. Hoge's) church. Altogether lovely in her life, she met death with the sublimest faith and comforted her weeping relatives by assurances of the perfect peace into which she felt she was entering. A young lady of excellent attainments and great attractiveness, she had long been the victim of disease and the object of the most affectionate solicitude of the household. Her venerable mother and her loving brothers and sisters have the tenderest sympathies of their many friends.

Her body was taken by last night's train to Maysville, Ky., there to be buried beside her father and brother.

Dr. Hoge in his services last night alluded (without mentioning the name) to the death of Miss Ryan as one of the most peaceful he had ever seen. He said that there was no perturbation; no apprehensions, and as near as anything he had ever known it realized the words of the Psalmist—"Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me."

PILES! PILES! PILES!

A Sure Cure Found at Last—No One Need Suffer!

A sure cure for blind, bleeding, itching and ulcerated piles has been discovered by Dr. Williams, (an Indian remedy,) called Dr. Williams' Indian Ointment. A single box has cured the worst chronic cases of twenty-five or thirty years standing. No one need suffer five minutes after applying this wonderful soothing medicine. Lotions, instruments and electricities do more harm than good. Williams' Ointment absorbs the tumors, allays the intense itching, (particularly at night after getting warm in bed,) acts as a poultice, gives instant and painless relief, and is prepared only for piles, itching of the private parts, and nothing else.

Read what the Hon. J. M. Coffinberry, of Cleveland, says about Dr. Williams' Pile Ointment: I have used scores of pile cures, and it affords me pleasure to say that I have never found anything which gave me such immediate and permanent relief as Dr. Williams' Indian Ointment.

Dr. Frazier's Root Bitters.

Frazier's Root Bitters are not a dram-shop whisky beverage, but are strictly medicinal in every sense. They act strongly upon the liver and kidneys, keep the bowels open and regular, make the weak strong, heal the lungs, build up the nerves and cleanse the blood and system of every impurity.

For dizziness, rush of blood to the head, tending to apoplexy, dyspepsia, fever and ague, dropsy, pimples and blotches, scrofulous humors and sores, tetter, ring worm, white swelling, erysipelas, sore eyes and for young men suffering from weakness or debility caused from imprudence, and to females in delicate health, Frazier's Root Bitters are especially recommended.

Dr. Frazier: I have used two bottles of your Root Bitters for dyspepsia, dizziness, weakness and kidney disease, and they did me more good than the doctors and all the medicine I ever used. From the first dose I took I began to mend, and I am now in perfect health, and feel as well as I ever did. I consider your medicine one of the greatest blessings.

Mrs. M. MARTIN, Cleveland, O.

Sold by George T. Wood at $1 per bottle.

Skin Diseases Cured

By DR. FRAZIER'S MAGIC OINTMENT. Cures as if by magic, pimples, black head or grubs, blotches and eruptions on the face, leaving the skin clear, healthy and beautiful. Also cures itch, barber's itch, salt rheum, tetter, ringworm, scald head, chapped hands, sore nipples, sore lips, old obstinate ulcers and sores, &c.

SKIN DISEASE.

F. Drake, Esq., Cleveland, O., suffered beyond all description from a skin disease which appeared on his hands, head and face, and nearly destroyed his eyes. The most careful doctoring failed to help him, and after all had failed he used Dr. Frazier's Magic Ointment and was cured by a few applications.

The first and positive cure for skin diseases ever discovered.

FASHION NOTES.

Scarlet is one of the fashionable colors. Low-quartered shoes will again be worn. The newest coat sleeves are slightly full at the top.

Pale-rose is the leading evening color this spring.

Paletots, reaching to the knee, are among spring wraps.

Chrysoberyl is the technical name of cat's-eye jewels.

Mustard yellow or yellow brown cheviot suits are leading favorites.

Long, tan-colored Bernhard gloves, of chamois leather, will be again in vogue.

No positive styles will be announced by dress-makers and milliners until after Easter.

Lengthwise tucks in the upper breadths of overskirts appear in many silk costumes.

Pointed V-shaped waistcoats appear on imported costumes. The point of the V is at or near the waist line.

Embroidery bands edge the parts of many handsome costumes wherever a band of trimming can be applied.

Grenadine lace for trimming grenadines comes with designs to match the broche flowers of the grenadine.

All blues, from porcelain and navy to gray blue or greyhound, and sky to water blue, are found in new veilings.

Rose is the favorite color for the solid-colored gingham or zephyrs that come with open-work embroidery bands on the selvages.

Cotton sateen and light alpaca are frequently used by economical dress-makers for the foundation skirts of silk and veiling dresses.

Plain tight-fitting bodices, full panier or tablier draperies, and much-trimmed skirts are the rule for spring suits of light woolen stuffs.

High heels never go entirely out of vogue, but sensible woman always have several pairs of low-heeled walking and heelless house shoes among their chausses.

The embroideries on zephyrs, veilings and batistes imitate old Venetian laces, Florentine cut work, applique laces, wheels and also flower and leaf designs.

Efforts are made in Paris, as well as London, to introduce the fashion of wearing the hair short and arranged in small flat, round curls, in the style of the French Republic.

The tops of worn-out ten-button length mousquetaire gloves can be sewed onto new two or three-button gloves with obvious economy. The joining seam will be completely hidden by the wrinkles in the wrist and the bracelets now universally worn.

Many of the veiling suits are made with a gracefully draped tablier over a kilted skirt, and back drapery a large double-looped bow of moire lined with taffeta silk. The ends of the bow are square, and reach only three-quarters down the length of the skirt.

The latest Parisian caprice in gloves is kids, undressed or dressed, of a pale pink, just the shade of the ground laurel. They are immensely long, and worn only in the evening, with almost sleeveless toilets. It is scarcely possible to tell where the gloves end, as they are near the color of the flesh worn by a blonde.

A PROPRIETOR of a circus in the West has lost several valuable animals, among them a fine specimen of a species of wildcat that attracted much attention in his show. Darwin like, he is now searching for the missing lynx.

A SPRINGFIELD dairyman furnished butter to a circus company recently, and wanted to get in on the strength of it. The ticket agent examined the butter and granted the request.

THE largest accumulation of money in the savings banks of California was in 1877, when the line reached over $76,000,000.

In these days we fight for ideas, and newspapers are our fortresses.

BATCHELDER'S Ventilated Egg Case.

Patented February 15, 1881.
Indispensible to Merchants Shippers
And Producers.

THE OUTSIDE frame of this carrier contains five trays, held in place by fasteners at end of case, as seen in cut. These Trays are constructed in reversible halves. The above cut shows one whole tray filled ready to be placed in case, each egg resting in its cardboard socket in such a manner as to be readily counted, candied, or transferred from tray to tray, or case to case, without rehandling.
For cold storage this case will store 60 dozen with racks made to receive the half trays, hence this is the cheapest storage case manufactured, saving largely in space.
The manner of holding the eggs on end prevents oscillation, adding, or breakage, and adds greatly to their freshness when carried long in storage. Size of 30 dozen No. 1 cases 25x12x14, weighs 20 pounds.

PRICES IN CHICAGO.
Shipper's No. 1, 30 doz. Case with Fillers complete 65 Cents.
Farmer's No. 1, 18 doz. Case with Fillers complete, 55 Cents.
Cardboard Fillers for refilling 20 Cents.
15 per cent. discount on lots of 100 cases.
Batchelder's Egg Tester, 1 string 6 doz. at once, saves to buyers many times its cost each season. Price $3.00.

By special arrangements made by the manufacturers of this case most Railroads will receive them as fourth class freight.
The 18 dozen case made especially for Farmers' use, sent to any address by express, with out nailing, with full directions for setting up, on receipt of 50 cents. Every Farmer and consumer should have one of these cases, it will save its cost every month. Agents wanted in every county. Address,

J. H. BATCHELDER,
